Weekly Update : Knaphill Junior School

Friday 26th May

A word from Mrs Harrison:

This half term seems to have flown by!

I can only put this down to the sheer amount of achievements across the school: from the King's coronation celebration with our very own Royal Variety performance with performers from across all year groups, to Year 3 visiting Chertsey museum, Year 5's residential to Hindleap Warren, Year 6 SATs with breakfast each morning, culminating in a SATs pizza party to celebrate their hard work and determination, to Year 6 swimming and Egyptian day today.

Our children have worked incredibly hard this term, they are certainly ready for their half term break.

Don't forget, we have an extended half term - we look forward to welcoming you back on Wednesday

Egyptian Day

Today in Year 6, children were transported back 3000 years to the times of the Ancient Egyptians. The children enjoyed a day of workshops run by a history expert from 'Portals of the Past'. The children were able to handle real artefacts that were over 3000 years old; played an ancient, strategic board game (which was extremely popular); learnt about the counting system from past times; took part in drama exploring who key Ancient Egyptians were as well as the how the mummification process happened and so much more. The costumes were amazing- from pharaohs to a mummy complete with their own full - sized, portable sarcophagus! It was clear how much everyone enjoyed their day.

Playground Markings

The school playground has had a makeover!

We are delighted with how the markings have turned out—and the children have already made use of the new pitches!

Year 4/5 Football

Last Friday, Knaphill were represented in two football tournaments. Our boys' team were playing together for the first time and put in some very spirited performances, showing great potential for our future endeavours.

Meanwhile, our girls' team won their group—scoring fifteen goals and conceding just one, before being beaten by the eventual winners in the semi final. The future is looking bright for Knaphill football teams!

Attendance Cup.
