

Such a big decision, see what our parents say...

From our very first visit to Knaphill Infant School, we felt that it was a warm, welcoming and nurturing environment.

We immediately had a sense that this was a school where children were known and valued as individuals.

The thing that has stood out most to us throughout our experience has been the genuine care and compassion shown by the staff. We have never felt that our daughter was simply one of many children; her individual personality, needs and sensitivities have always been understood and supported.

We loved seeing her come home excited to tell us about her day, sharing all the things she had learned, the activities she had enjoyed and the achievements she was so proud of.

We know our daughter is surrounded by people who care about her, encourage her & want her to thrive.

Teachers are available for a quick chat anytime if have any worries

As working parents, having clear communication and knowing that we could approach the school if we needed anything gave us huge reassurance.

The care, encouragement and reassurance we received helped our daughter approach the start of school with more confidence, and it also gave us confidence as parents that she was going to be in very safe hands.

We have also loved being invited into school for assemblies, shows, special days and events. It is such a lovely feeling as a parent to see your child in their school environment and watch them proudly show you something they have worked on. Seeing their excitement and confidence really makes you appreciate how much time and effort the staff put into making these moments special.

Forest School was also really important to us when choosing a school, and it was lovely to see that it became one of our daughter's favourite parts of the year. She absolutely loved being outside, getting involved and exploring, and it was clearly something she looked forward to.

The Reception teachers were incredibly warm, welcoming and supportive, which helped us feel reassured from the very beginning.

Settling into school and adjusting to a new routine was a big change for our daughter, but the care and support from the teachers made such a difference.

We really appreciate the effort that goes into creating experiences and making school such an exciting and memorable part of her childhood.

The variety of experiences offered to the children has also been fantastic. From author visits and rock climbing to the robot competition and Earth Day, there have been so many fun and different opportunities for our daughter to experience new things.

The support we received from her teacher went far beyond what we could have hoped for. She supported not only our daughter, but us as parents too.

Extremely friendly & informative and the communication through the admissions process has been great for both children.

We knew from that very first visit that it was the kind of environment we wanted our daughter to grow and thrive in.

We never felt like we were an inconvenience or that our questions were unimportant.
